GREETINGS BY PRESIDENT OF THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION V. V. PUTIN TO PARTICIPANTS AND GUESTS OF THE INTERNATIONAL LIKHACHOV SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE

Dear friends!

I greet you on the occasion of the opening of the 22nd International Likhachov Scientific Conference.

Your meetings, which annually bring together in St. Petersburg renowned scientists, cultural and artistic figures, politicians and diplomats from different countries, provide a good opportunity for meaningful and constructive discussions. All the more so because the agenda of the Readings invariably includes a wide range of issues related to the main trends in the development of modern society, both at the national and international levels.

This year's Conference is dedicated to the place and role of the BRICS in the global arena. The choice of this theme is particularly relevant in light of Russia's chairmanship of this authoritative and influential association, which ensures effective joint work of the member states in many areas on the basis of the principles of equality, respect and mutual consideration of interests.

I expect that you will discuss the prospects for the development of the BRICS at a high expert level, and your ideas and initiatives will help us explore new forms and areas of mutually beneficial multilateral cooperation for the benefit of our countries and peoples and in the interests of building a more just, secure and prosperous world order.

I wish you fruitful communication and all the best.

April 12, 2024

President of the Russian Federation

V. PUTIN

EXCERPTS ON THE HISTORY OF THE INTERNATIONAL LIKHACHOV SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE

Since 1993, St. Petersburg University of the Humanities and Social Sciences has been hosting annual International Scientific Conference devoted to the issues of the humanities of our time. One of the initiators of this Conference was an outstanding Russian scientist and public figure, an internationally recognized humanities scholar, a specialist in the study of culture and monuments of Old Russian writing, an Academician of the Russian Academy of Sciences and a foreign member of academies in many countries of the world, Honorary Doctor of St. Petersburg University of the Humanities and Social Sciences Dmitry Sergeyevich Likhachov.

The Conference of 2025 (originally called "Academic Days at SPbUHSS") is 31st in the series, and 23rd under the title of the International Likhachov Scientific Conference.

Since 2001, in recognition of Dmitry Likhachov's special contribution to science and culture and to confirm the scientific significance of the Conference, the special decree of the President of the Russian Federation Vladimir Putin has given this scientific forum the state status of the International Likhachov Scientific Conference. Its co-founders are the Russian Academy of Sciences, the Russian Academy of Education, and St. Petersburg Intelligentsia Congress. Since 2007, the Conference has been organized under the support of the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Traditionally, the Conference agenda includes the most universal discussion topics of our time related to contradictory trends in the development of human society, globalization processes, the role of humanitarian culture and education in the modern world, urgent problems of interfaith communication, tolerance, morality, etc.

Every year more than 1500 major Russian and foreign humanities scholars – scientists, politicians, public leaders, church hierarchs, famous figures of culture and art, writers, journalists – participate in the Conference.

Since 2007, the Conference has included the Likhachov Forum of Russian high school students (since 2014 – the International Forum of High School Students), which brings together the winners of the annual competition of creative works "Dmitry Likhachov's Ideas and Modernity" from all over Russia and abroad.

Since 2008, the Diplomatic Program of the Conference "International Dialogue of Cultures" has been carried out jointly with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Russia, where foreign ambassadors present their views on the most important problems of our time.

In 2001, 2004, 2006, 2009–2012, 2016, 2017, 2019, 2022, 2024 the organizers and participants of the Conference were welcomed by Presidents of the Russian Federation V. V. Putin and D. A. Medvedev; in 2008, 2010–2019 – by the Chairmen of the Government of the Russian Federation S. V. Kirienko.

Collections of reports and speeches of the participants, texts of sectional discussions and round tables are published every year following the results of the Conference. These proceedings are stored in all major libraries of Russia, CIS countries, scientific and educational centers of many countries of the world. The proceedings of the Conference are presented on the special scientific website "Likhachov Square" (www.lihachev.ru).

SAINT PETERSBURG UNIVERSITY OF THE HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

St. Petersburg University of the Humanities and Social Sciences was founded by the Russian Trade Unions on October 9, 1926. Its tasks initially included training leaders of the world trade union movement, then – heads of cultural and tourism institutions of socialist countries.

Over the past 25 years, the University has become one of the leaders in higher education in Russia. Today, about 8 thousand students study there. The university has 5 branches, including one abroad – in the Republic of Kazakhstan.

SPbUHSS is one of the country's largest innovation centers in the field of the humanities, developing a number of unique specialties at the intersection of art, culture and information technologies. The University trains highly qualified professionals in 31 specialties and areas of training: Conflict Management, Law, Management, Economics, Journalism, Linguistics, Art History, Social Work, Acting, Choreography, etc. About 3 thousand students study full-time at the University in St. Petersburg, it employs about 80 doctors of sciences and professors, over 150 candidates of sciences and associate professors, 38 People's Artists and Honored Workers of Science, Culture and Art of Russia.

Over the years of the existence of St. Petersburg University of the Humanities and Social Sciences, about 47 thousand specialists have received their degrees here. According to the Federal Service for Labor and Employment, over 99.9 % of graduates are successfully employed.

Every year, St. Petersburg University of the Humanities and Social Sciences hosts 20 large-scale scientific conferences, including the International Likhachov Scientific Conference.

Among the well-known results of the University's research work is the "Declaration of the Rights of Culture", developed at St. Petersburg University of the Humanities and Social Sciences under the leadership of Academician Likhachov, as well as the culture-centric model of the university, recognized by the Russian Academy of Education as innovative and the most promising for Russia in the 21st century. Over the past 10 years, the University has published about 1,100 titles of scientific and educational literature with a circulation of about 500 thousand copies. On the 115th anniversary of the birth of D. S. Likhachov, the fourth edition of the Academician's selected works on Russian and world culture was published.

Honorary doctors of the University are outstanding figures of science and art of world level: Nobel laureate Zhores Alferov, writer Daniil Granin, Academician of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Director of the Hermitage Mikhail Piotrovsky, film director Eldar Ryazanov, conductor Yuri Temirkanov, choreographer Boris Eifman and others.

SPbUHSS maintains partnerships with a number of universities and research centers in Europe and the USA, carries out a wide exchange of students and teachers, and conducts joint scientific research.

Rector of St. Petersburg University of the Humanities and Social Sciences, Academician Alexander Zapesotsky is a scientist recognized in the international scientific community, a specialist in the field of culture and higher education, honorary doctor of universities in the USA, Ireland, Ukraine, Poland, Belarus, Academician of the Academy of Sciences and Arts (Paris), the European Academy of Sciences and Arts (Salzburg), laureate of the Government of the Russian Federation and the Government of St. Petersburg awards in the field of education, the Gorky Literary Prize, the Prize named after G.V. Plekhanov awarded by the RAS, National Award "Best Books and Publishing Houses of the Year".

The culture of every nation, large and small, has the right to preserve its uniqueness and identity. The entire set of phenomena and products of the material and spiritual culture of the people constitutes an organic unity, the violation of which leads to the loss of the harmonious integrity of the entire national culture.
